

Visions of Valuation

Published on Alvarez & Marsal (<https://www.alvarezandmarsal.com>)

The attention to the role valuations play in private equity has increased in the past decade as the industry has matured and grown.

A&M's Aryeh Sheinbein [2] participated in a Private Funds Management roundtable event along with other practitioners as well as general partners to discuss trends driving the current valuation process including greater outsourcing and the increased use of technology.
